

Andrew Archambault

President, U.S. Refreshment Beverages

Andrew Archambault is President, U.S. Refreshment Beverages, for Keurig Dr Pepper (KDP). He leads all aspects of the business unit including marketing, fountain food service, concentrate sales, and the Company's nationwide direct store delivery (DSD) network.

Prior to this appointment in 2023, Andrew served as President, Commercial & Beverage Concentrates, where he led full-portfolio business planning, national account management and sales execution and all enterprise commercial functions as well as fountain food service and cola-affiliated bottlers and distributors. He was previously Chief Customer Officer for KDP and had been Senior Vice President for U.S. Commercial Strategy at Keurig Green Mountain.

Before joining Keurig Green Mountain, Andrew served as Chief Commercial and Customer Officer for The Nature's Bounty, Co. and as Vice President and Managing Director for Bacardi USA. His career also includes 17 years at The Coca-Cola Company, where he held a variety of sales and corporate roles.

Andrew is on the Executive Board and a Committee member of the American Beverage Association (ABA) and a member of the Board of Directors of Tractor Beverage Company. He earned undergraduate degrees in Business Management and Political Science from Gettysburg College and an MBA from Georgia State University.